Be aware of fake job offer scams

We, at Tata Communications, are an equal opportunity employer and follow a merit-based & bias-free talent acquisition process. All recruitments are done through our own Talent Acquisition HR department.

We do not ask prospective employees or job seekers for any money or to make any security deposits or ask for any payments at any stage during the selection process. We do not authorise any third party to make any employment offers on our behalf. Employment offers are issued directly by the Company.

There have been cases of impostors using the names of Tata companies to solicit job applications and asking job seekers / applicants to pay processing fees or deposits. These scams typically solicit such payments via fraudulent email or phone solicitations. We recommend caution and vigilance; any prospective employees or job seekers should not respond to, and avoid all dealings with any unauthorised person or parties claiming through letters, email, websites, phone calls, SMS and any other form of communication, that they are representatives of Tata Communications. If any prospective employees or job seekers are approached by any such unauthorised person or party in this manner, we request them to immediately contact local law enforcement authorities.

Additionally, we urge the prospective employees or job seekers including general public to be cautious when opening links or attachments from unknown third parties. The general public is also cautioned not to deal with any unscrupulous persons claiming through letters, email, websites, phone, SMS and any other form of communication. Please note that Tata Communications and its subsidiaries do not send e-mails asking for your credit card number or other personally identifiable information. Nor do we charge or accept any amount or security deposit from any prospective employees or job seekers for any employment, competition, marketing promotion or campaign.
